Inbound Calls

Sales / Billing Representative

During my time with this company, I had the opportunity to acquire invaluable skills that were provided to me through working under multiple clients with this company. This being said, this line of work has exposed me to a variety of environments that have allowed me to obtain the experience needed to handle a wide variety of different calls, and other situations where you would deal directly with a customer. This line of work has properly taught me how to implement soft skills that allow me to build rapport with customers. Working under a system where you had to meet specific metrics such as Handle time, Hold time, And after call time have also allowed me to work extremely well under pressure. During my time here, I have received acknowledgement for excelling in keeping metrics to par with company standards as well as providing excellent customer service.
